Sofas with high style, simple shapes, and exposed legs take center stage this year

“These sofas have a midcentury feel while maintaining traditional elements, such as tufting and soft curves.”

TOP TO BOTTOM: “I adore the mix of wood and upholstery on the Julian sofa by O. Henry House” ($4,890 C.O.M., 336/431-5350). “This sofa by Southwood allows the imagination to run wild with fabric ideas or keep it simple to highlight the splendid shape” ($4,542, 828/445-1776). “With its bolster pillows and sweeping shape, the Celia sofa by Mitchell Cook & Bob Williams melds comfort and style” ($2,390, 800/789-5401). “The Dakota sofa by Oly expands my love of a shelter chair to a handsome shelter sofa for two” ($10,275 as shown, 775/336-2100). “With a higher back and low arms, Duralee’s Downtown sofa makes a fine room divider” ($4,960, 800/510-4801).
